SIMMONS 'FRAIL, WEAK & SPIRITUALLY BROKEN'

BELOVED '80s exercise guru Richard Simmons has deteriorated into a bedridden recluse! The 66-year-old "Sweatin' to the Oldies" star is at the mercy of a personal staff that "dictates his every move," according to a former employee, who has sensationally spoken out to The National ENQUIRER.

"Richard is in desperate need of help," Mauro Oliveira, Richard's ex-personal assistant and masseuse, told The ENQUIRER.

"He's frail, weak and spiritually broken."

According to the former aide, a housekeeper and Richard's business manager now rigidly control every aspect of the once-bubbly personality's life, and prevent close friends from seeing him!

Referring to the last time he saw Richard in April 2014, Mauro declared: "I thought he was suicidal!"

IT'S BEEN almost a year and a half since Richard was last seen in public: At the 2013 Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade, the icon couldn't cover up that he was confined to sitting in his small float.

Adding to the fears, Richard's many fans were also concerned when he missed the funeral of best pal Joan Rivers last September.

Former aide reveals tragic bedridden life of depressed fitness guru Richard Richard, "he had completely given up," his onetime confidante revealed.

"I said, 'You have to get out ... you need to eat!'"

But a trembling Richard told Mauro: "No. I need to rest. I'm very tired."

RICHARD'S PROBLEMS began when he first lapsed into a deep depression after injuring his knee and ending a long-standing romantic relationship, Mauro said.

The star then suffered another devastating loss when his precious pooch - a 17-year-old Dalmatian named Hattie - passed away.

"Richard was crushed when he had to put Hattie down," said Mauro, who has described the fitness legend's nightmare ordeal in his book, "King Rich and the Evil Witch."

MAURO LEFT his job with Richard in March 2014. The two kept in touch regularly, but Mauro was eventually cut off - and said he heard nothing from Richard for months.

In February, Mauro called Richard's brother, Lenny, in New Orleans in a desperate attempt to get help for him, but got nowhere.

Mauro explained that he's gone public about Richard's weakening condition in a bid to get him help - before it's too late.

"I'm taking this drastic measure because I want Richard's fans to be aware of what's going on," he said. NE

Urban's fury as Kidman turns to Russell for comfort

AN ENRAGED Keith Urban ripped wife Nicole Kidman over sharing details of their shaky marriage with pal Russell Crowe!

"Keith caught Nicole spilling to Russell on the phone, and he's furious!" said a close pal of the couple.

A source added: "Russell's been a friend of the family since day one, but now he's single, and Keith's very uncomfortable with their close bond."

As The National ENQUIRER has reported, Keith and Nicole - both 47 - have clashed repeatedly over the last few years.

The Aussie couple has fought over everything from Nicole's constant cosmetic procedures to Keith's endless touring and the time he spends away from home for "American Idol."

Russell once admitted that he wanted to date Nicole who's had a tough year.

Her career has taken a well-documented nosedive, with a string of box office flops, including the laughable "Grace of Monaco."

She's also dealt with fallout from the Scientology documentary, "Going Clear," and the passing of her father, Antony, and former brother-in-law Angus Hawley.

With Keith away again, "Nicole is in a real dark place right now," said the close pal.

"She's turned to Russell for marriage advice."

The "Gladiator" hunk, 51, has been separated from wife Danielle Spencer since 2012, and has known Nicole since 1989.

He supported the "Moulin Rouge!" beauty after her father passed away, while she introduced him with a rousing speech at the G'Day USA ball.

Russell even admitted to Oprah Winfrey in a 2007 interview that he'd have killed for a date with Nicole, but she wasn't single at the time.

A pal said: "Russell and Nicole have been through a lot together, but Keith is insanely jealous - and they're playing a dangerous game."

MELISSA'S MESSING WITH HER HEALTH!

'Quick fix' weight loss is dangerous, warn docs

MELISSA McCarthy's shockingly rapid weight loss has doctors fearing for her health and wellbeing!

Medical experts believe the actress, 44, tipped the scales at up to 240 pounds and, at 5-foot-2, she's reportedly shed 50 pounds in just months!

"She could be risking her health with an obvious inability to eat correctly," warned New York's Dr. Stuart Fischer.

"She could put herself at risk of 65 different illnesses, including breast, uterine and cervical cancers."

Dr. Sue Decotiis, a physician specializing in weight loss, added:

"Melissa's body mass index [BMI] had to have been over 40 - and morbidly obese is 35. She has to commit to real lifestyle changes to avoid cardiovascular disease, stroke and other complications."

GOLDIE TO KURT IT'S OVER

IN ONE of Hollywood's most stunning splits, Goldie Hawn has walked out on partner Kurt Russell after 32 years, The National ENQUIRER has learned in a bombshell exclusive.

The two have long been regarded as Tinseltown's happiest unmarried couple, but insiders said they've been drifting apart for years over his temper and their fading sex life.

Rugged action star Kurt, 63, could have triggered the final bust-up by slapping bouncy blonde Goldie, 69, with a "marry me or set me free" ultimatum last Christmas.

"Kurt's ultimatum was a last-ditch attempt to coax Goldie to the altar. But instead, it made her rethink their relationship altogether!" an insider told The ENQUIRER.

"She told him, 'Why screw up a perfectly fine relationship by getting married?'"

BUT THEIR LIVES haven't been "perfectly fine" for years, said the source.

"Kurt's anger issues have gotten worse. He yells and screams at Goldie all the time over stupid things, and their sex life has fallen off," the source revealed.

"As unconventional as it might be, they've given each other lots of room to see other people in an effort to spice up their own romance.

"But they lost the spark, and in a painful decision, Goldie finally walked out on Kurt. She went to New York before Mother's Day to spend time with friends and family.

"Kurt stayed behind in L.A., where he's hiding his pain. He's a macho guy who doesn't like to show a lot of emotion. But no doubt he's hurting inside."

On Kurt's birthday, March 17, 'Kurt's anger issues have only gotten worse'

KURT: ER!

Goldie posted a message on Twitter that read: "I love Ya So," and the couple posed together at the Mattel Children's Hospital UCLA Kaleidoscope Ball in Los Angeles on May 2.

Yet a second source said: "It's really just for appearance's sake. They haven't made the decision to take the split public. But it's only a matter of time."

In a sign that the relationship was faltering, the couple sold their beloved Malibu beach house two years ago.

While they still own a home in Brentwood and a ski chalet in Aspen, Colo., Goldie is building a multi-million dollar home of her own in Pacific Palisades.

Kurt and Goldie, a hot new couple in 1983

Said the source: "Goldie frequently visits the construction site to oversee details. Kurt has nothing to do with it. Goldie plans to live there when they split, while Kurt will likely remain in the Brentwood house."

IT MARKS A strange end to one of Hollywood's most unusual romances.

The pair first got together in 1983 after Kurt left first wife, actress Season Hubley. Goldie was dating married French actor Yves Renier at the time, an affair that began while she was still wed to second husband, musician Bill Hudson.

Kurt and Goldie settled in Aspen and raised their son, Wyatt, 28, along with Goldie's children, Oliver and Kate, with Bill.

They came close to tying the knot in the '90s, as Goldie considered honoring a deathbed vow to her late mother, Laura.

But the friend explained: "She got cold feet, and left Kurt hanging."

CRACKS BEGAN showing in 2000, when Kurt was spotted at a seedy massage parlor in Santa Monica. Goldie lashed out by going on a boozy bender in England with TV reporter Charles Glass.

Kurt was also "really embarrassed" by photos of Goldie locking lips with her 31 years-younger business associate Samuel Arouitunian in London in 2011, said the insider.

"It's led to fights about cheating, lying and betrayal. Goldie is still the wild, free spirit of her 'Laugh-In' days, and Kurt's never been able to tame her," the insider added.

"He tried forcing her down the aisle - and now it's left him out in the cold."

$130 MILLION BATTLE WILL BE 'MESSIER THAN A DIVORCE'

SINCE KURT Russell and Goldie Hawn never wed, their $130 million split could turn into a ferocious free-for-all over property and other assets!

Top celebrity divorce lawyer Raoul Felder, who is not involved in the case, told The National ENQUIRER: "They've been together for more than three decades, so there must be thousands of loose ends."

"In a lot of respects, it's worse than a divorce because they never married!"

Goldie's estimated worth is $60 million, while her live-in love has slightly more dough, with $70 million.

If they were husband and wife, their assets could be divided in an orderly manner, Raoul said. Instead, they'll likely be forced to hash out who owns their homes, as well as all their other physical assets and revenue from business ventures.

According to Raoul, "common law marriages" similar to theirs are seldom officially recognized, creating "a lot of complications."

"They're just two separate people who own a lot of property," he said. "Each item they have together - a car, a painting - can become a battleground." NE

DEMI'S BROTH

Far left, Demi's paternal half-brother James Harmon is a free man following his 2013 release. The assault felony in 2005, however, was just the latest in a long line of previous offenses

What Moore tried to hide: Her sibling's a monster who nearly beat a woman to death

DEMI MOORE has been hiding a dark family secret – but the woman nearly beaten to death by the star's white supremacist brother is now revealing that buried evil!

Ten years ago in October, Tasha Marie Lee experienced a horror no woman should have to face at the hands of the “G.I. Jane” actress’ sibling.

“I really thought I was going to die,” Tasha told The National ENQUIRER of the nightlong beating she endured at James Craig Harmon’s hands in a Houston motel.

Harmon, now 41, served eight years of a 10-year sentence, and was released from prison in 2013.

“He had a knife. He grabbed it and told me: ‘If you want to be a whore, I’ll treat you like a whore,’” a tearful Tasha, 32, said as she broke her decade-long silence.

“Then he cut my pants, then cut my face and my hands. The more I tried begging him to stop, the worse it got. I tried screaming for help – and that’s when he picked up the telephone and began hitting me over and over again. He hit me so hard so many times the phone broke.

“He told me it would be easy for him to slit my wrists and fill the bathtub up with my blood and make it look like suicide. I wasn’t waiting to die. I was just hoping someone would save me.”

NOW A NURSE and mother, Tasha doesn’t blame Demi for her brother’s behavior – but added the star would “be ashamed to know him.

“He’s very violent, and Demi’s only safe from him because she doesn’t have to see him. If she had a relationship of any kind with him today, it wouldn’t end well.”

Tasha bravely revealed to The ENQUIRER the details of when Harmon went homicidal: “It was the first and last time I’ve ever been to a nightclub. We were having fun, but I could tell his mood was starting to change, so we left.

“He was jealous of everybody, and we ended up arguing. I went for a walk across the street and sat, waiting for him to calm down. I saw him leave in his truck, so I went back to the motel room and fell asleep.”

That would be a near-fatal mistake for Tasha, as she woke up to Harmon wielding a knife. The sickening attack would last for hours.

“He eventually passed out,” recalled Tasha. “As I tried to remove the chain lock, it made a small noise and woke him up. I ran as fast as I could and locked myself in the truck. He was banging the windows, and a security guard saw and called 911.”

HARMON LATER asked Tasha to blame her beating on a gang of African Americans, she said – a foreshadowing of the racism he exhibited after being sentenced to prison.

“As soon as he got into prison, he was asking me to send him information about the Aryan Brotherhood. I refused,” Tasha revealed.

‘He’s very violent, and Demi’s only safe from him because she doesn’t have to see him.’

Tasha, whose face is still scarred, added: “I was really young, so I’ve grown up a lot. I was broken, I was lost, and luckily I survived.” NE

THE stripper involved in Ben Affleck's ugly split from Jennifer Lopez has told The National ENQUIRER she's not shocked his marriage to Jennifer Garner is kaput!

"No, I can't say I'm surprised," former blonde bombshell Tammy Morris, now 41, said in an exclusive interview.

"I believe, 'Once a cheater always a cheater.' My advice to Jen is: 'Run!'"

In a blockbuster interview in our Aug. 19, 2003 issue, Tammy, then 29, revealed how love rat Ben cheated on then-fiancée J.Lo with her!

While Ben vehemently denied the story at the time, Tammy passed multiple polygraph tests regarding her account of their lusty romp.

"My advice to Jen is: Run!"

sex. I couldn't believe it! It wasn't the greatest I've ever had, but it was from Ben Affleck!"

Weeks later, on Sept. 10, Ben and J.Lo called off their wedding just four days before they were set to say "I do."

The couple, dubbed "Bennifer," briefly reunited, but split for good in January 2004.

Ben later married Jen, who was pregnant, in June 2005. They're now the parents of three children.

In a recent world-beating scoop, The ENQUIRER detailed how Ben and Jen are headed for a $150 million divorce.

In a new twist, The ENQUIRER has also learned that Ben has consulted a top Hollywood divorce lawyer!

Tammy - now married and expecting her third child - delivered a parting shot to the doomed marriage.

"I was really hoping Ben had turned his life around," she said. "He married the all-American girl. It's too bad he couldn't make it work."

Jen and Ben have been married since 2005

NEW dad Ashton Kutcher is reeling from a devastating family tragedy, The National ENQUIRER can exclusively reveal.

The mother of Ashton's "favorite" nephew was found dead in her apartment on May 5, police have confirmed. It's understood drugs could have been a factor in her sudden death.

"Ashton is beside himself over Melissa's death," said an insider.

"Her son Jackson is a favorite of Mila [Kunis] as well. He's called her 'Auntie Mila' from the day they met."

Melissa, Michael, Ashton and baby Jackson

Melissa was married to Ashton's twin brother, Michael, until their recent divorce.

The drama reached its climax when police in Sioux City, Iowa, received a phone call requesting a welfare check on Melissa, 34, who worked for the local newspaper.

"When the officer entered her apartment, she was dead on the scene," the source said.

"There was no suicide note, and no foul play is suspected."

The insider added: "With Mila and their baby girl Wyatt, this should be the happiest time in Ashton's life. But Melissa's death hit him like a ton of bricks." NE

CHANDRA'S KILLER STILL AT LARGE!

TRUEcrime

New witness heard screams from her apartment – hours before cops say D.C. beauty was slain in park

CHANDRA Levy's murderer is still walking the streets – and the man wrongly convicted of the crime is getting a second chance at justice!

In a bombshell development, shocking new evidence has forced the government to retry the man they put behind bars, The National ENQUIRER has learned.

A new witness said the pretty brunette – whose death destroyed the career of her married Congressman lover, Gary Condit – may have been heard screaming for help as she was assaulted in her own D.C. apartment.

In a case that riveted America, 24-year-old Chandra vanished without a trace while jogging in Washington's Rock Creek Park on May 1, 2001. Her remains were found in the park about a year later.

Chandra had been having a secret affair with Gary. Although he was never named as a suspect, the revelation contributed to his defeat in the 2002 election.

The cold case heated up in 2008 when detectives zeroed in on Ingmar Guandique – who was serving a 10-year sentence for attacking two other women in Rock Creek Park within weeks of Chandra's disappearance.

"She has told Mr. Guandique's lawyers that she called 911 at 4:37 a.m., to report a 'blood-curdling scream' from a woman in extreme distress," a source close to the investigation told The ENQUIRER in an exclusive interview. "She said it may have come from Chandra's apartment."

The ENQUIRER has also learned that Chandra's mother, Susan, reportedly supports the new trial.

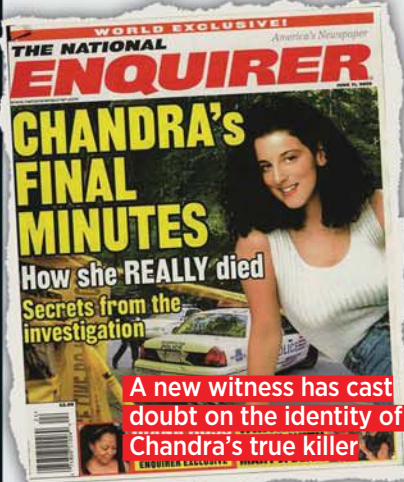

"She has long harbored doubts about whether they got the right man," a family insider told The ENQUIRER.

"That there was a woman who screamed has made her wonder: Was Chandra taken from her apartment, and was she dead?"

"Nothing can bring Chandra back, but Susan knows how the government has covered up other cases. She wants to know the truth." NE

Shattered Sharon!

SHARON Osbourne's loved ones have staged an intervention hoping the 62-year-old dynamo will slow down before she kills herself!

"Sharon's been working 20-hour days for over a year," said a source. "Her daughter Kelly is pleading with her to stop running herself ragged before it's too late!"

"The Talk" co-host recently collapsed from exhaustion before agreeing to take a month-long sabbatical.

But pals fear Sharon – who battled colon cancer in 2002 – will insist on returning to her hectic schedule when her 30 days of R&R end.

"Sharon seems to forget she's a cancer survivor," said one friend. "It spread to her lymph nodes, and her prognosis was a 33 percent chance of survival."

"She's managed to beat the Workaholic Osbourne's killing herself, pals fear odds and stay cancer-free, but her friends and family know that battle makes it even more important that she take care of herself so the disease won't return."

But Sharon's history of ignoring rest and healthy eating habits has friends fearing the worst.

In 1999, the 5-foot-2 mother of three shed 125 pounds with gastric bypass surgery after hitting a high of 224 pounds.

Last year, Sharon lost 30 pounds on the low-carbohydrate Atkins Diet, for which she is a spokesperson. But her family fears the rigorous program will put her health in further jeopardy, sources said.

Dr. Harry Flint, a professor at the Rowett Research Institute in Aberdeen, Scotland, has suggested that diets based on high protein and low carbohydrates are particularly dangerous to people with colon cancer.

The source said: "The bottom line is that Sharon needs to quit working, spend more time with her family and start taking care of herself. Her life depends on it!"

HER vanity comes before our vets!

In a slap in the face to America's courageous wounded warriors, First Lady Michelle Obama used Walter Reed Army Medical Center as her own personal outpatient plastic surgery clinic, The National ENQUIRER has learned.

"It's appalling!" fumed Jill Farrell of Judicial Watch.

"With taxpayers picking up the tab for her ski trips to Aspen and beach outings to Hawaii, we might as well pay for her abs and butt, too!"

Michelle was whisked to the hospital with "the utmost secrecy" in the summer of 2011, a source told The ENQUIRER.

"Secret Service agents were stationed both inside and outside the operating room. Michelle had fat sucked from her abdomen, hips and butt."

While such procedures can take up to two hours, "she was done in 45 minutes to an hour."

What's more, the source added, "When elective surgery is done, even if it's cosmetic, the surgeon's fee is waived. If Michelle paid anything, it would have been just for the anesthesiologist."

"Because Michelle is First Lady though, I wouldn't be surprised if the government picked up the total tab, meaning taxpayers forked over their hard-earned dollars to satisfy her vanity!"

THE ENQUIRER has also learned Michelle, 51, has likely had more than just liposuction at such military facilities.

We asked a panel of top plastic surgeons to analyze before-and-after photos of the First Lady, and each agreed the mother of two has undergone a so-called "liquid facelift" with Botox and filler

CHRISTINA'S FIANCÉ BEGS her for baby No. 2

WORKAHOLIC Christina Aguilera is trying for another baby – to keep her fiancé happy!

Frustrated Matt Rutler has demanded Christina focus on family, not career, sources have revealed.

"Matt feels neglected," divulged an insider. "Christina promised that she'd give him another baby after their daughter, Summer Rain, was born, and now Matt's calling her on that promise."

Christina, 34, has been working nonstop with a coaching gig on "The Voice," a guest stint on TV's "Nashville," her producing duties on ABC Family's "Hearts and Clubs," and plans to release her eighth album.

Despite that, "Matt wants Christina to get pregnant soon," the insider added.

To keep him happy, the "Beautiful" singer hopes to be pregnant by their daughter's first birthday on Aug. 16, said the source, adding: "But after the new baby – she's done!"

Matt and Christina have been together since 2010

"A little Botox helps to smooth out those forehead lines earned during the last campaign," theorized Dr. Lyle Back.

"I can [also] see the rhinoplasty work she had done is very obvious. It is superb, sophisticated work, though."

Dr. Otto Placik said Michelle now has fewer crow's feet, indicating she's had "definite Botox," as well as a Hollywood-ready smile.

He added: "Her lips are fuller, indicating fillers into both upper and lower lips. Besides that, her marionette lines [running down from the corners of her mouth] are almost completely gone."

Respected plastic surgeon Dr. Steven Dayan added:

"She has a decrease in the height of her smile, which can happen when a lot of filler is placed in the cheeks and smile lines."

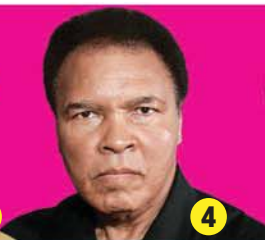

The experts' conclusions further incensed Jill, who charged: "Michelle Obama is taking up needed space while veterans are awaiting care and suffering. It's a crying shame!" NE

WORLD'S MOST AMAZING TRANSPLANT

Disfigured shotgun victim gets the face of man killed in traffic accident

RICHARD'S TRANSFORMATION

IN A miraculous moment, Rebekah Aversano smiled – and her dead brother's face smiled back!

Josh Aversano was only 21 years old when he died in a 2012 traffic accident. But now his family has seen Josh living on – through an extraordinary operation in which his face was transplanted onto another man.

Richard Norris had been hideously disfigured in 1997 when a shotgun went off in his face. The blast destroyed his nose, jawbones, teeth and tongue.

Today, the pioneering transplant surgery by Dr. Eduardo Rodriguez has the grateful 40-year-old looking exactly like clean-cut Josh.

"This is the face I grew up with," exclaimed Josh's sister Rebekah, as she first met Richard and touched the living features that she had last seen on her brother years ago.

Josh's mother, Gwen, revealed to The National ENQUIRER the emotional June 2013 encounter was filmed for a television documentary that will hopefully encourage others to become organ donors.

"We know our son is in heaven," she said, "and that using his body to help someone else is what he would have wanted."

The unprecedented transplant took place over 36 hours at the University of Maryland Medical Center, with doctors warning that Richard only had a 50 percent chance of surviving the surgery.

"I asked him if it was really worth the risk," Rebekah said.

"And Richard said, 'Absolutely – I'm now able to walk past people and no one even gives me a second look!'"

Except, of course, for the Aversano family.

"When we met Richard and his parents for the first time, I could see the features of my son – and I felt this had been the right thing to do," said Gwen. NE

SHE teeters out on the Las Vegas stage to face rows of empty seats, wearing horrifying costumes best suited to a woman two decades younger – and 50 pounds thinner.

Her raspy voice wavering and fluttering to stay on pitch, this lonely former superstar is far removed from her “Daydream” pinnacle. Though she has more hit singles than any other solo artist, and a famous five-octave range, the high notes have tragically ended for Demon Diva Mariah Carey.

Now, in a remarkable turn of events, her own brother has sensationally broken ranks to reveal he’s terrified Mariah has spiraled into a pill-popping nightmare of mental illness and alcohol abuse!

“My worst fear is that she’ll die just like Whitney Houston!” Morgan Carey declared to The National ENQUIRER in an explosive world exclusive interview.

Morgan claimed his shattered superstar sister is suicidal, a danger to her own children and battling to maintain her sanity as she mixes booze with a potentially ▶

INSIDE MARIAH'S BIZARRE WORLD

Mariah Carey's eccentric behavior has stunned fans for years. Here's a look at her most outrageous antics:

■ She donned costly designer clothing, including a floor-length ball gown, for playground outings with her twins.

■ During a recent visit to Disneyland with her twins, Mariah's entourage included two nannies, four bodyguards, three VIP guides - and a personal umbrella holder!

■ Staff members must wear black or drab clothing so Mariah stands out.

■ After performances or video shoots, Mariah lapses into what sources call "inexplicable catatonic trances."

■ She refuses to enter a foreign country without her Jack Russell terrier.

■ During her 2001 meltdown, Mariah ranted on her website: "I can't trust anybody right now, because I don't understand what's going on. I'm desperately trying to get out of this room. And I don't know if that makes any sense to anybody."

deadly cocktail of prescription medications!

He also blasted Mariah's money-hungry handlers for endangering her life by allowing her to guzzle wine and champagne like it was water.

"Mariah is struggling on a number of levels. She does not have a support system, and she is not mentally capable," Morgan, 54, told The ENQUIRER.

SADLY, NOT EVEN Whitney's drug addiction shocked 46-year-old Mariah into cleaning up, according to Morgan.

"We were in Mariah's trailer [while she was filming] the 'Loverboy' video, and she was talking about Whitney running around holding a crack pipe," Morgan told The ENQUIRER.

"Mariah was like, 'Oh, boo hoo, poor Whitney ... I felt so bad for her, she's such a f---ing mess.' I think back to that conversation, and realize it should have been Mariah's wake-up call!"

Instead, Mariah continued to battle her own demons - with Morgan claiming she boozed it up while pregnant, and even drank in the hospital after giving birth to her girl-boy twins, Monroe and Moroccan, on April 30, 2011!

"Mariah was drinking through her pregnancy - even while she was nursing!" Morgan claimed.

When asked if he thinks the twins are safe under Mariah's care, Morgan flatly responded: "No."

The Grammy-winning diva's boozing is intensified by her battle with mental illness, according to her brother.

Mariah entered a Connecticut hospital in July 2001 after suffering an "emotional and physical breakdown" - she denied it was drug-related - and was diagnosed with bipolar disorder, her brother claimed.

According to Morgan, she mixes alcohol with a potentially fatal cocktail of high-powered prescription medications, including Zyprexa for schizophrenia, Ativan for anxiety and Depakote for bipolar disorder.

MORGAN FEARS the combination could lead to an unintentional overdose for the iconic songbird, who is reportedly worth an astronomical $510 million.

Since her alleged bipolar diagnosis, "I can't say that I have ever been around her when she was sober, and that's very scary," he added.

While Morgan admitted that he hasn't communicated directly with Mariah in two years, he's speaking out because he fears her mental and physical conditions are deteriorating, along with her career.

Her 2014 album, "Me. I Am Mariah," tanked, selling fewer than 120,000 copies, compared to the millions sold at the height of her career. In a desperate bid to revive her popularity, the pop queen signed on to perform at Caesars Palace in Las Vegas through next February. But her once powerful voice has faded – critics have panned her performance.

Adding to her woes, the “Dreamlover” singer is also waging a bitter divorce battle with “America’s Got Talent” host Nick Cannon.

MEANWHILE, MARIAH is surrounded by enablers who keep mum as she goes on sleepless drinking binges, erupts in temper tantrums and suffers from inexplicable and terrifying “trances,” according to a former member of her entourage.

Morgan said: “I don’t know the people around her, and that’s scary. She’s pushed away the only people who’ve been trustworthy.”

He’s now deeply concerned that she’s on the brink of another mental breakdown or worse, especially since she drinks wine and champagne constantly, while her handlers just watch.

Morgan warned: “If my sister turns up dead – and clearly there are a lot of people who stand to gain a tremendous amount if she does – I’m not going to look the other way! Anyone who’s filling her glass is jeopardizing her life!” NE

NEXT WEEK

Mariah’s brother rips the lid off the pop diva’s dysfunctional relationship with her mother, allegations of child abuse, a blackmail scandal and the tragic near-death experience of her heroin-addicted sister, Alison.

‘Nick wasn’t good for her’

HOST of “America’s Got Talent” Nick Cannon married Mariah Carey solely to boost his career and fatten his bank account, according to her brother.

Morgan Carey claimed Nick, 34, wanted the “Daydream” singer to remain in a boozed and drug-fueled stupor so that he could cheat on her!

“That relationship was a crock of s---t from the get-go!” Morgan said.

“Nick listened to people who said, ‘Get with Mariah, she thinks you’re cute, have kids and ride it to the bank!’

“Nick was there for the cash from day one. He doesn’t give a damn about Mariah. For him, it would be better off if she died!”

The two remain locked in a bitter divorce battle, with each accusing the other of cheating and flirting during their six-year marriage – he with a hot young “AGT” contestant, she with rapper Nas.

Added Morgan: “Nick was never good for Mariah. Because of her condition, Nick took tremendous advantage of her and continues to do so.”

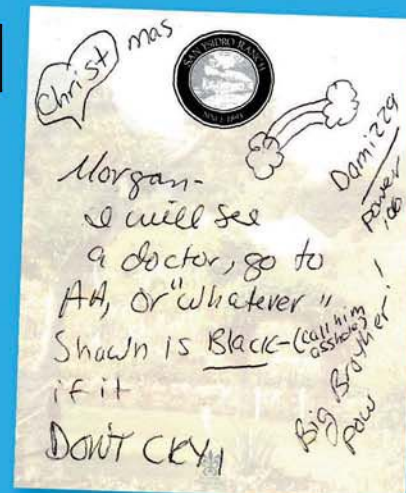

Handwriting reveals she’s mega-stressed

MARIAH Carey suffers from obsessive-compulsive tendencies “to the point of exhaustion!”

That’s the conclusion of a top handwriting expert who analyzed a letter written by Mariah to her brother Morgan.

She wrote the letter while recuperating after her 2001 breakdown. She wrote: “Morgan, I will see a doctor, go to AA, or ‘whatever,’” adding: “Don’t cry.”

Mariah’s strong “pressure push” on the pen indicated she’s under tremendous stress, nationally renowned expert David Liebman told The ENQUIRER. “It’s not a stable situation, and she can’t maintain this type of pressure all of her life.”

FORD FLIES (HANS) SOLO AGAIN!

Just three months after his horrible crash, frail Harrison defies Calista's plea to stay grounded FURIOUS Calista Flockhart just can't clip husband Harrison Ford's wings – as these National ENQUIRER photographs show, her rebellious flyboy has already taken to the skies after his near-fatal crash!

"Calista was unhappy and stressed over Harrison's recent injuries," said a pal of the "Indiana Jones" star.

"She'd put her foot down. She didn't want him to fly!"

But Harrison – sporting wounds from the crash, including a depressed cheek – ignored his wife and took off in his private helicopter on May 28.

The decision proved his son, Ben, right: He'd declared that his dad was "determined to fly again!"

But friends are still worried that Harrison is sending his marriage into a tailspin with his decision!

Although her rep insisted The ENQUIRER she "supported" Harrison's dangerous hobby, Calista had sworn to a close pal: "He wants to get back up there, but he'll do it over my dead body!"

"Calista was having to play mother hen with Harrison because he wanted to engage in his favorite activities, even though he's a lot more frail now," said a source.

In the end, the 72-year-old actor was "antsy to get back to his high-flying ways," according to a pal – after the double blow of the March plane crash and a horrific on-set accident while filming the upcoming "Star Wars" movie.

The latter shattered Harrison's left leg when a set piece malfunctioned.

One eyewitness at the Santa Monica Airport reported Harrison was "walking a little steady" – but used a golf cart

Harrison couldn't wait three months before giving wife Calista some new worries to get to his helicopter after parking nearby.

It's not surprising he needed the extra help: The screen legend broke his pelvis and ankle when he crash-landed in Venice, Calif. He also suffered head injuries.

But in an attempt to avoid the glaring eyes of photographers, Harrison wore a baseball cap to cover up the large gash on his scalp during his helicopter jaunt. NE

A KNIFE cuts away the parts of something not needed. This is the year of the knife for me!"

Those are the twisted rantings from the disturbed mind of O.J. Simpson's son Jason, who kept a secret diary in the months before Nicole Brown Simpson and her friend, Ronald Goldman, were slashed to death.

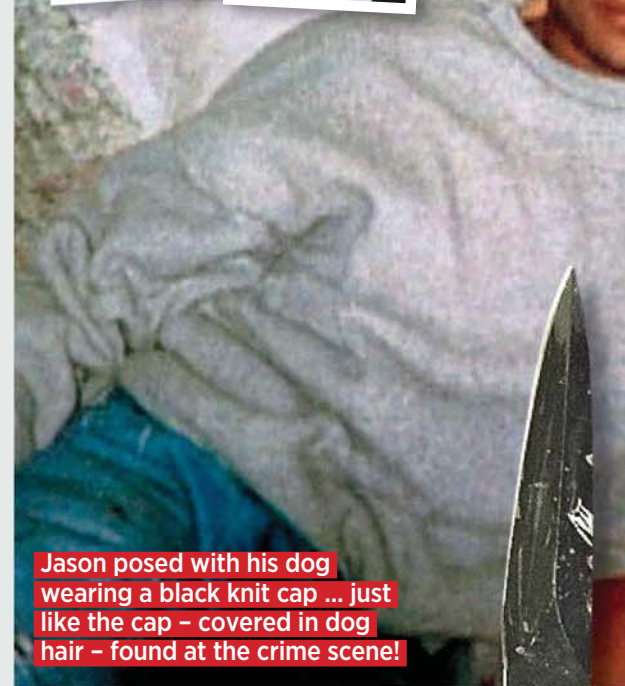

On the 21st anniversary of the murders, The National ENQUIRER has exclusively obtained that journal - which provides a startling glimpse into the life of demon-ravaged Jason.

The son of the former NFL star has been sensationally fingered as an accomplice to the 1994 murders, as this publication previously reported.

In a bombshell turn of events, Los Angeles private investigator Michael Alexander Martin identified then-24-year-old Jason as being at the grisly Brentwood, Calif., crime scene.

Michael said he was parked about 40 yards from Nicole's tony townhouse on an unrelated stakeout that fateful night.

Around 10:15 p.m., he said he saw O.J. - and his son - park O.J.'s infamous white Ford Bronco in an alley behind Nicole's home. O.J. exited the car and slipped on gloves, claimed Michael.

Jason posed with his dog wearing a black knit cap ... just like the cap - covered in dog hair - found at the crime scene!

Ten minutes later, O.J. returned with a bundle of clothes under his left arm. Father and son then drove off into the night, Michael alleged to The ENQUIRER in a world exclusive interview.

Texas-based private investigator William Dear - who has solved cold cases for the FBI - obtained Jason's diary from an

In one chilling entry, Jason wrote: "My laugh ... was the laugh of a madman. The blood I mentioned previously, coming from my arm? A direct result of madness."

In another, he penned: "I can't help but think of the story of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. A man that when induced with a chemical becomes a madman."

The journal is also laced with descriptions of his "self-destructive behavior" and drug use, including cocaine and ecstasy.

"I have fun when I'm slipping ... drinking," read one disturbing entry.

He added: "I saw myself on my trip and I wasn't disappointed with what I saw. I was, however, uncertain about certain aspects of myself."

"My insecurity and knack for letting it become uncontrollable and ultimately contributing to the demise."

William commissioned Texas handwriting expert Don Lehew to analyze Jason's journals, who concluded that "no doubt" they match his handwriting.

THE HIDDEN journals are even more disturbing when considered alongside other contents that William found inside the storage unit.

He told The ENQUIRER the cache of evidence included ►

CHILLING OBSESSION WITH JEKYLL & HYDE!

JASON Simpson's bizarre diaries are full of references to "The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" - with O.J.'s obsessive son reveling in comparisons to the fictional tale of a schizophrenic madman!

Those chilling references include this weird passage: "I do not want to play Jekyll and Hyde any longer! They say famous last words define the heart of a man. I made my bed. I must live in it."

CAR. MY LAUGH, HOWEVER, WAS THE LAUGH OF A MADMAN.

THE BLOOD I MENTIONED PREVIOUSLY, COMING FROM MY ARM? A DIRECT RESULT OF MADNESS.

Another creepy diary entry has investigators pondering what other acts Jason committed in his role as a Mr. Hyde.

"Again. It has happened again," scrawled Jason. "That monster that I swore disassociation with resurfaced."

Robert Louis Stevenson's classic was first published 130 years ago - and still terrifies readers with the tale of a mild-mannered London physician who transforms into the homicidal Mr. Hyde.

Today, the tragic tale is often used to illustrate the mental illness of a split personality - sometimes referred to as "dissociative identity disorder."

The blood-splattered path leading to Nicole's condo a knife that Dr. Vincent DiMaio, a forensic pathologist, found to be consistent with Nicole and Ron's wounds.

William also secured a photo of Jason lying in bed with his dog while wearing a black cap – just like one found at the crime scene that was determined to have traces of dog hair!

What's more, Jason refused to take the powerful psychotic drug known as Depakote in 1994, his ex-girlfriend told William.

A prescription had been written for Jason after he had been psychiatrically treated for violent impulses and behavior, William has alleged.

He said a report from Cedars-Sinai Medical Center dated January 1994 – five months before the murders of Ron and Nicole – identified Jason as a patient who “feels like he's going to rage.”

One journal entry elaborated: “Here I sit. On a hospital issued, pink, plastic and wood chair. On level two. Yes level two. I survived 21 years and two suicide attempts, countless drug-filled nights.”

“I WILL now not stop until final justice is given to the victims,” private eye Michael told The ENQUIRER.

“If Jason Simpson was ever charged in this case, O.J. could be arrested and charged with aiding and abetting. There is no double jeopardy if it were to be a charge other than murder.

“I need to continue this and make right for all what I should have done 20 years ago.”

For his part, O.J. – now jailed in Nevada on an unrelated burglary case – has declared of his son: “The theory is just one of a thousand regarding the murders, and the LAPD has fully investigated this and felt it has no merit.”

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

O.J. ‘CUB REPORTER’ GEORGINA, 9, IN MURDER TRAGEDY

Stepfather of girl who covered 1995 trial held over slaying of her mom

Georgina today

IN A twist of fate, a young girl who once covered the Simpson trial for The ENQUIRER grew up to help cops arrest her stepdad for murdering her mother!

Georgina Concepcion was only 9 when she charmed our readers by landing a courtroom seat during the trial.

The fourth grader wrote to the judge four times and finally got a seat – earning an “A” on a report and providing a day of court coverage for our June 27, 1995, issue!

Sadly, the crime of domestic violence returned to haunt her in July 2012. Then living in Anchorage, Alaska, she grew alarmed when her mom, Linda, didn't make her usual Sunday call from California.

Linda still lived with Georgina's stepdad, Sigfredo, but was days away from finalizing a divorce.

Georgina repeatedly tried to reach her and left a message saying she was contacting police. Shortly after, Sigfredo called cops to report he'd found the body of his estranged wife, 64.

Linda's cause of death was a gunshot wound, and Georgina quickly proved she still had a nose for news!

When Sigfredo called her to report the death, Georgina kept him talking, and was convinced he'd killed her.

She soon learned that authorities shared her suspicions. Georgina took to the Internet to track down the killer, and started a Facebook page called “Justice for Linda Concepcion.”

On March 20, Sigfredo, 73, was arrested and booked on suspicion of murder.

‘Dark Knight’ mass shooter’s JOURNAL OF DEATH

A GLIMPSE into the twisted mind of the “Dark Knight” shooter has been unveiled in court. Copies of the personal notebook that former grad student James E. Holmes mailed to his psychiatrist were passed out to jurors in Colorado.

They were sent just hours before 12 people were killed and 70 wounded in an Aurora movie theater in July 2012.

“Rarely is there a case where a defendant gives the jury a journal of what's going on in his head,” said David M. Beller, president of the Colorado Criminal Defense Bar.

While prosecutors entered the notebook into evidence, Holmes' defense team intends to use it to prove that he is not guilty by reason of insanity.

“The notebook is extremely important to both sides,” David said. “The prosecution highlights its intricate detail, where the defense focuses on the incoherent ramblings.”

In one passage, Holmes, 27, rationally debated whether to attack an airport. There are also pages filled with symbols and the single word, “Why?”

In one disturbing passage, he wrote: “The obsession to kill since I was a kid, with age became more and more realistic.”

Holmes reportedly picked the Century 16 Theater because he could lock its doors to maximize casualties. It was screening “The Dark Knight Rises.” NE

JULIA GOES DAYS WITHOUT A SHOWER

Hollywood's "Pretty Woman" is so green she can get a little ripe! According to a security expert who worked with JULIA ROBERTS on a movie, "Julia is a total hippie. She'll go days without showering. She likes to save water, and she likes the smell of her natural oils. Her husband, Danny [Moder], doesn't care because he's just as much of a hippie."

EDDIE'S CHOKE HOLD TUSSELE WITH SLY

Sylvester Stallone went all-"Rambo" on EDDIE MURPHY! The "Rocky" star thought Eddie was carrying on an affair with his then-wife, Brigitte Nielsen, and grabbed Eddie from behind. That's when Eddie's bodyguard, Lee Weaver, said he kept Sly in a choke hold until he passed out!

JEN'S FOREVER FLASHING THE FLESH

When you look as good as JENNIFER ANISTON, why not flaunt it? The 46-year-old actress "is very free when it comes to showing off her body," confided a former bodyguard. "She never covers up. When she answers the door in the morning she's in a mini camisole and underwear. When she's not in her underwear, she's in a bikini. I can name all the moles on her body - that's how many times I've seen her undressed!"

SLOB LI HAS A DEAD

BRITNEY LIVES ON A DIET OF TACO BELL & RED BULL

Back in 2008, BRITNEY SPEARS existed on a diet of mostly "Taco Bell and turkey jerky washed down with Red Bull," according to a source close to one of her bodyguards. The "Toxic" singer would vomit "after meals, both at home and in restaurants" so often "people around her" thought she was bulimic, added the source. The 33-year-old also thought unicorns were real, "and lived somewhere in New Zealand," said the source. "It had to be explained to her that unicorns were never real."

NICOLE'S OBSESSED WITH SEXTING & SHOPPING

Reality TV starlet NICOLE RICHIE, 33, keeps her marriage to rocker Joel Madden fresh by "constantly texting him sexy messages, telling him what she's wearing," said a former minder. Nicole's other addiction, said a guard who worked for her, is shopping! "She can easily blow $2,000 a week on shoes. She loves Louboutins, which can go for over a grand."

LINDSAY WITH WISH

Keeping an eye on actress LINDSAY LOHAN "was a nightmare," said a former bodyguard. While the 28-year-old's reps have denied it, the guard said: "She had a total death wish, and took more drugs and drank more than anyone I've ever met." Another former guard also said Lindsay was "the biggest slob I have ever seen!"

ALOOF OPRAH'S SNUB TO NEIGHBORS

Media mogul OPRAH WINFREY goes incognito when she works out. "Nobody ever notices her in the gym," said an eyewitness. "She doesn't wear makeup or a wig. If she is recognized, it's because of her voice!" She's also aloof with her neighbors in exclusive Montecito, Calif., said a source who spoke to her security team there. "Oprah goes for power walks in the neighborhood, and she's always trailed by a couple of bodyguards. One time, she dropped a sweater in the street. A neighbor picked it up and returned it to her home with a note, but Oprah didn't even bother to thank her!"

UP CLOSE & COZY WITH STAY-AT-HOME ANGIE

A hunky minder named Bill kept a close eye on ANGELINA JOLIE. The 35-year-old former military man was hired to guard the Pitt-Jolie clan in Prague while she filmed "Wanted" in 2007, and he was at then-32-year-old Angie's side when Brad roared off on a solo motorcycle trip to Berlin, said a source. "Bill and Angie always appear warm and relaxed together," said the source, "and he's now an indispensable fixture in her life."

PINK CAN PARTY WITH THE HARDEST!

Rocker PINK has scaled back her party-hearty ways since having daughter Willow, 4, with husband Carey Hart. But in 2008, a former employee revealed: "She likes to pound drinks, often without mixers. She's one of the biggest party girls I've ever seen!" And when Pink had a few too many, "she literally takes naps!" scooped the source. "Once at the Playboy Mansion, she curled up in a chair and fell asleep while everyone walked around asking, 'Is that Pink?'"

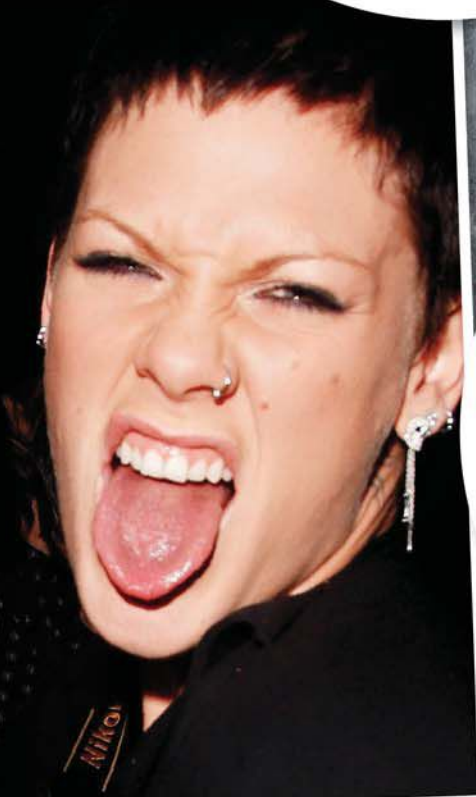

KATIE'S ANGER AT BEING 'CONTROLLED'

Hands-on mom KATIE HOLMES ripped into then-hubby Tom Cruise when he criticized the way she carried their daughter, Suri. A former bodyguard revealed: "She'd take this type of criticism and say nothing. But this time, she shouted at Tom: 'Stop it!'" After settling Suri, she got right in Tom's face, said the source. "Katie said: 'I'm tired of your help and you controlling my life!'" Tom was taken aback. He said quietly, 'I'm only trying to help,' and walked away."

AGONY & THE ECSTASY OF BEING MARY-KATE

MARY-KATE OLSEN liked to hang out with a druggie crowd, said her bodyguard. "I especially remember three hangers-on. I saw them with cocaine ... [and] 'pures,' which are tablets like ecstasy." As for alcohol, the petite 29-year-old preferred clear spirits, like vodka, the bodyguard divulged. "Because she's so tiny, a little booze would have a big effect on her," the bodyguard revealed. "Colleagues told me that on at least two occasions she had so much to drink that she had to be carried to her car."

MILEY GETS A KICK OUT OF KISSING GIRLS

When fans aren't looking, "Wrecking Ball" singer MILEY CYRUS likes to lock lips with girls! "Limo rides [with her girlfriends] are a total party, blasting music and snapping risqué pictures – a lot of them Miley wouldn't want anyone to see, or she'd be in big trouble!" said a former bodyguard. "It's all a big thrill for her, and she's only getting wilder." Miley's mom, Tish, is no prize either, added the source. "I hate working for Tish because she's so damn rude and bossy. She acts like you're a servant more than a professional there to protect them."

JOHN Mellencamp sang himself back into Meg Ryan's good graces by agreeing to move to Manhattan and get married.

But the "Pink Houses" rocker better pick up the tempo if he wants to maintain their romantic harmony!

John, 63, and Meg, 53, began making music together in 2010, but split in August when John wouldn't leave his longtime Indiana home.

"He finally agreed to move, but it's been one thing after another since," a friend said. "When they look at apartments and Meg says one is 'perfect,' he finds something wrong with it!"

Added another pal: "Meg thinks John only wants marriage on his terms. He better get serious about moving to New York before he's back in that 'Small Town' by himself!"

CHARLIZE AND SEAN SCOPE OUT SUMMER WEDDING!

AFTER just 18 months of dating, Charlize Theron and Sean Penn are planning for a wedding - and a honeymoon baby!

"They're going to slip away to South Africa and get married in August," dished a friend of the couple.

"And Charlize is making no secret that they're shooting for making a baby on their wedding night."

The two expect to tie the knot on August 7 - Charlize's 40th birthday.

"They'll get married in her

CASEY WANTED TO DIVORCE HIS 'SICK, TWISTED' WIFE!

CASEY Kasem confided that he desperately wanted to leave his wife, Jean, who bullied him into giving her control of his $80 million estate!

That's the bombshell claim of the late DJ's daughter Kerri, who told The National ENQUIRER: "Jean tortured my father in his final days.

Towards the end, he talked about divorcing her, but he was too sick to go through with it.

"I also have information that my father's old housekeeper witnessed Jean screaming at him to sign the legal documents giving her control over his estate!"

The L.A. district attorney's office declined to charge Jean with elder abuse, despite the request of Casey's children. Now they plan to ask officials in Washington state, where their father died, to prosecute Jean.

Private eye Logan Clarke, working on behalf of Kerri, told The ENQUIRER: "Jean Kasem is a sick, twisted, narcissistic woman."

"He said, 'We're going to go to the front door of Buckingham Palace,' and I said, 'Michael, you can't do that at 10 o'clock at night!'"

"So Michael ended up having fried chicken with Queen Elizabeth in the kitchen!" said Klein.

YOUR HEALTH

BY DR. STUART FISCHER & LAURIE MILLER

MEMORIZE YOUR MEDS!

ONE of the biggest challenges in growing older is keeping track of all your medications! Since it's also a safety issue, follow some important basic steps to track them. Store them together and keep a list of everything you take so you can share it with your doctor. Keep an eye on your meds' expiration dates and pay attention to the color and shape of your prescription drugs so you recognize them in or out of the bottle.

It's important to find a genuinely cool place for your pills. Otherwise, they can "spoil" before they expire.

NATURALLY GOOD MOODS

ONE in every 10 adults suffers from some level of depression, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Many meds bring brutal side effects like lethargy, but there are readily available natural solutions. St. John's wort is a popular mood enhancer and can be found at many drugstores. Also try SAMe, otherwise known as S-adenosyl methionine, which contains depression-battling chemicals.

How to pick A PAIR OF SUNGLASSES

SUNGLASSES are essential summer accessories, but they should be picked on their level of protection! UV damage is cumulative over a lifetime, so it's also important to start wearing protective sunglasses early in life. Always look for full UVA/UVB lens for maximum eye preservation. Rose and yellow lenses make it difficult to distinguish color. Gray, brown and green minimize distortion and are a better choice for driving. Polarized lenses filter reflected sunlight that causes glare. Pick bigger frames for maximum protection. Safety outranks style!

CUT YOUR TRIPS SHORT

FAR too many folks end up in emergency rooms after taking the wrong kind of trip. Cut back those statistics with simple steps that'll prevent stumbling. Make sure to anchor throw rugs with tape or a non-slip backing. Put a rubber mat down in the shower, too. Coil up all the loose wires in the house. Make sure your indoor and outdoor stairs have lots of lighting, and check that the carpeting is secure on each step. Beware of any medications you're taking that may cause dizziness – and watch your step!

HOLD THE SALT!

TOO much salt can wreak havoc with your system – but secret sodium is the real danger! Excess salt can raise your heart rate and blood pressure. Remember that we only get 10 to 20 percent of our daily intake from actual table salt. The rest is hidden away in [usually processed] foods. Watch for culprits like deli meats, frozen dinners, canned veggies, bran cereals, vegetable juices, ketchup and relish! The best remedies are, of course, good diet and exercise.

SKIP THE COFFEE!

CHAMOMILE tea is a proven remedy for easing all sorts of ailments. It has soothing qualities that can curb anxiety and aid sleep, while delivering relief from stomach problems such as ulcers, cramps and bloating. The tea bags can even reduce dark circles under the eyes. Just brew some up, cool them to room temperature and place on your eyes. Boiled and cooled bags are also effective compresses for wounds and burns. Lastly, tea can help in the treatment of psoriasis, eczema and diaper rash!

RECHARGEABLE HEARING INVENTION FOR LESS THAN $20.

Choose Your Perfect Sound Volume – Hear Lots Of Sounds, Crystal Clear And Crisp!

PLUS Save Lots Of Money!

U.S. Company overwhelmed with orders for Rechargeable Sound Amplifier – no need for endless, costly battery changes for consumers!

Research shows that consumers ask for these main features!

- 1) Rechargeable technology!
People are tired of wasting money on endless and costly battery changes!
- 2) Almost invisible design!
Most people are sensitive to having any visible device in their ear!
- 3) Comfortable!
Many customers prefer a lightweight and behind-the-ear design with a clear tube to the ear, that's truly comfortable to wear for as long as they want!
- 4) Crystal Clear Sound!
Sound Amplifier users want a strong volume boost to increase the sound level of those everyday sounds around them – loud and clear!
- 5) Low price!
Who does not want a bargain these days?

New technology and modern production techniques are driving down prices in so many areas. Still, many consumers are puzzled when they realize that most companies charge a fortune for Premium Level RECHARGEABLE Sound Amplifiers.

However, one company is quickly changing that, and has turned the industry upside down with a new RECHARGEABLE top-of-the-line solution, for less than $20.

How is that possible? Why not let the consumer pay through the nose, like so many other companies? The Clear-Hear HD 3000 manufacturer explains "There are so many solutions on the market, but many of them simply have bad sound quality – and others are just too expensive to fit many Americans' budgets!"

The company continues "We really want this technology to change people's lives, without any financial burden. At this company, we take pride in not developing inventions only for a few privileged!"

The public response from men and women to Clear-Hear HD 3000 has been overwhelming. "We are sometimes out of stock for a few days. We can't make them as fast as people are buying them". The company believes they are highly popular right now for 4 distinct reasons:

1) It's rechargeable. The new Clear-Hear HD 3000 completely eliminates the constant need of changing money-wasting batteries. It comes with its own charging stand and power adapter – it recharges fully while you sleep.

2) The sound quality is exceptional. That's why a person buys Clear-Hear HD 3000 in the first place. Because they want to make hearing other people, TVs, radios, etc, easier, with the extra boost in volume that a PREMIUM QUALITY Personal Sound Amplification Product (PSAP) gives them. Buyers quickly see that Clear-Hear HD 3000 truly delivers crystal clear sound reception.

3) It's nearly invisible. Many people are sensitive about this topic, and don't really want any listening device to be seen. So Clear-Hear HD 3000 was designed to be ultra-small, lightweight and very comfortable. In fact, the clear tube design makes it almost invisible. Clear-Hear HD 3000 users report that it's so incredibly discreet that only they know it's there.

4) The price is absolutely astounding for the quality you get. Clear-Hear HD 3000 takes you from ordinary hearing to SUPER HEARING – increasing the weakest sound – at a super low price that anyone can afford.

Those are the 4 reasons why most people choose Clear-Hear HD 3000 over other Personal Sound Amplification Products (PSAPs). But after they start using Clear-Hear HD 3000, their life literally changes. With Clear-Hear HD 3000, all this becomes a reality: They can hear everything easier...the TV, the stereo, the car radio – without turning it up and disturbing others. They can participate in conversations from a distance – and they don't miss a word. They can bring it to the theater or the movies and not miss any of the action. They can more easily hear the doorbell, a knock on the front door, or a car horn while driving. They can hear all nature's beautiful sounds. And they can more easily hear what others are saying – even if they're far away. Each Clear-Hear HD 3000 has adjustable volume control and the unit fits both the left and right ear. And the silicone ear pieces in different sizes, guarantees a customized fit, regardless of your ear size.

Clear-Hear HD 3000 is shipped with EVERYTHING needed at no additional cost. Including...the Rechargeable Sound Amplifier...a charging stand...a power adapter for charging...

5 extra ear pieces... a cleaning brush... and an instruction manual...ALL for only $19.95. That's unheard of in the PSAP industry and the supplier is extremely busy filling orders for men and women all over the U.S.

The company explains: "If we sold this product through normal retail outlets, there's no way that we could hand these over to the public for less than $20. But we cut out the middle-man and sell directly to the consumer. We manufacture in large quantities and pass the savings on to the buyer". You can order Clear-Hear HD 3000 directly from the company risk free for only $19.95 by calling 1-800-550-5700. They are not sold in stores. DOWNTON ABBEY® FASHIONS!

SWAROVSKI

Each elegant figurine stands

An exclusive collection of elegant figurines modeling Edwardian fashions from season one of Downton Abbey!

As dawn breaks, the servants hustle and bustle downstairs, while upstairs, the Crawley sisters are first stirring and checking their calendars for the day's events.

And so begins another refined, yet always fascinating day at Downton Abbey. Now, based on the PBS masterpiece, Hamilton brings you The Downton Abbey Fashion Collection — handcrafted figurines inspired by the period costumes from the show.

Crafted, painted and accented by hand!

Spending hours reviewing the show and Edwardian-era styles, Master Artisans handcraft intricate details influenced by the fashions worn by everyone from Mary, Edith, Sybil and Rose to Cora, Violet and Isobel. Flowing gowns ... elegant long gloves ... sculpted accents of lace, eyelet, brocade, ribbons and more. They then hand-paint the figurines so each lady sculpture wears an original creation — just like on the show.

Preview the Premiere Issue FREE!

Act now to invite “Resplendently Regal” into your home for a FREE PREVIEW. Formally dressed for dinner, this elegant figurine is sure to catch the eye of a suitor (or two!) in her red “embroidered” and “beaded” gown adorned with sparkling glitter and genuine Swarovski crystal jewelry. Future issues are released on the same Free Preview basis. Each hand-numbered edition is limited to 95 casting days and arrives with a Certificate of Authenticity. Collect as many as you like, or cancel at any time. Your satisfaction is guaranteed for one year or your money back.

There is a war raging in America... against families... against parents... and against their children.
Few know the damage and mayhem it is causing.

Romeo MISSES A PAYMENT

Romeo Misses A Payment is a must-see film for anyone concerned with families, children and parental rights. Documenting the complicated and often lopsided world of divorce and child custody through the eyes of those affected most- children, parents and extended families- the film also features the expert testimonies of attorneys, judges and law officers who are caught up in the "business" of divorce.

Struggling with financing, time and patience Director Angelo Lobo and Producer Jeff Polinsky knew they must continue the journey of making Romeo Misses A Payment when the first of several suicide notes appeared in their inbox. Written by distraught parents being churned up in the divorce system, the filmmakers became determined to force an examination of standard divorce procedure in the U.S., where, in most cases, everyone loses—most especially the children. Sadly based on economic feasibility, Romeo Misses A Payment is a real look at the overwhelming devastation of the divorce industry and ultimately challenges America to protect families, aim higher, and find a better way.

Mary B. says:

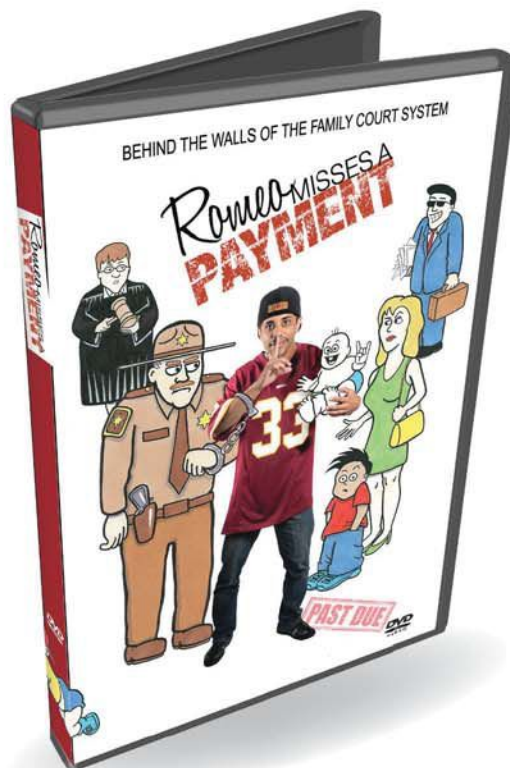

As a loving mom who, when I told the judge that I hadn't seen my daughter for four months worth of my custody time, was asked by the judge "What do you expect me to do about it?", I urge everyone who has ever lived through the hell of a custody battle to watch this movie. Can you expect that your child will be taken away from you just because your spouse ran off with someone else? Oh yes. You can.

Darrick S. says:

Thank you for promoting this issue and this site. I have bought 10 of these to send to my politicians with a letter asking them to act on changes in the law.

HOW TO PLAY

You must fill in every empty square in the Sudoku grid. There's no right way of going about this, but there is only ever one solution. The big grid is split into nine mini-grids. There are nine rows running left to right and nine columns running down. In every row, you must have each of the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9. These can be in any order. The same applies to columns and mini-grids: place every number 1 through 9 in each column and in each mini-grid.

CELEBRITY WORD MATCH

Find a word that can follow the word on the left and precede the word on the right. When you've filled in all the answers, the name of a celebrity can be read from top to bottom in one of the lines.

YOU BUTTER BELIEVE IT!

From top: milking
the cow, Tiger Woods and a tiger, Yoda and the Last Supper

WHAT would you make with a few hundred pounds of butter?

Well, forget about whipping up cookies and cakes!

For real buttery goodness, pull out a hammer and chisel – or whatever America's top butter sculptors use to create their unique masterpieces.

While butter sculptures aren't considered museum-worthy, they do earn places of honor at the best state fairs in America.

Some of them choose celebrity subjects – such as golfer Tiger Woods and his animal namesake, or Yoda of “Star Wars” fame.

Others pay tribute to much bigger names. A buttery recreation of the Last Supper is a reminder that the Book of Genesis has Abraham serving up “butter, and milk, and the calf which he had dressed.”

A sweet likeness of a woman milking a cow also seems like an obvious choice.

But displaying butter sculptures isn't easy. A serious collector would have to invest in a walk-in freezer for proper display.

Still, don't let that keep you from trying out butter sculpting. If you don't have butterfingers, it could be a great new hobby – and you might even carve yourself a place on The Odd List! NE
